NORWAY AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clough of Westbrook are stopping at the James cottage while on a vacation.

J. Freeland Bolster is visiting in Camden, Rockland, Union and surrounding towns.

The only good road Norway now has is the Lake road which formerly was notoriously bad. The road was graded last season with coarse sand taken from the Brown sand pit. We notice gravel is being dumped by the roadside for repairs. This is as it should be. It is the way repairs of roads are made, where roads are kept in shape. This is the first venture in intelligent road building and maintenance we have seen in this town. You can't make a smoothed surface road in any other way.

Emerson G. Curtis of West Paris was met on the street the other day. He was fresh from his camp in Greenwood, near the old Roberts mill. He came home so the trout he had caught wouldn't spoil on his hands. He threatens to bring us a cane of many curious twists and bends.

We received a box of handsome roses from Annie Herrick which were picked from Mrs. Viola Herrick's rose bushes on Patch Mt., Greenwood.

Ferd Swan has sold his farm above Norway Lake and the family expect to purchase a house in the village.

Horace Kimball, boss carpenter and local overseer has the Woodlast Shoe Corp. sign in position on the factory ridge pole and waiting further orders to proceed. Horace Sawyer and crew have finished their painting contract there.

Gertrude Witham is ill at her home with influenza.

Judge Charles F. Whitman is moving his effects into the new office near his home on Crescent street. When completely settled he will have everything handy and convenient. This is a two story building with a garage on the first floor and the office above. Natural wood finish and many windows, gives plenty of light and an air of comfort to the room which will contain his law library, historical works and manuscripts. One cozy corner in particular is to be the Judge's favorite spot, devoted wholly to his research into historical matters.

The Rheumatic Jazz Band will hold a dance at the Norway Opera House, Friday evening, July 18, known as the "Popular Alarm Clock Dance."

Mrs. Howard Winchester and son, Marshall, of Manchester-by-the-sea, Mass., are spending the month of July at the Weymouth cottage at the Lake.

Mrs. Etta Norsworthy is spending the week with Earl Stearns and family in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Strout have finished work here and are visiting at Edward Bryant's at Hartford.

Winston Churchill with his son and daughter motored from Cornish, Monday to test the good bass fishing in Lake Pennesseewassee. They went after the game just before sun set and returned to Beals Tavern late in the evening flushed with success. The party left Tuesday morning for Rockland.

A grange store is to be opened in the "Walley building" on Beal street with W. S. Pierce in charge. Groceries and general merchandise will be carried in stock.

The J. F. Mason one and a half story dwelling, on Pleasant St., South Paris, has been sold through the Dennis Pike Real Estate Agency, to Harry D. Thurlow of Norway.

The American Legion has adopted an official emblem which will serve as the emblem of the organization until changed by a National convention. The button consists of a small replica of bronze of the discharge button with a narrow circular band of enamel containing the words "American Legion." Ex-service men who have been wounded may wear the same button only with a silver center.

Women auxiliaries to local posts of the Legion have been officially approved by the National executive committee of the organization. State organizations of women established during the war for the aid of relatives and friends in the service. The permanent status of these auxiliaries will be decided at the National convention of the Legion in November. In the meantime each post will determine for itself the conditions under which women not eligible to membership in the Legion may become affiliated with the post.

The injured man was taken to Josiah Witham's home and treated. Merwyn Garry, the son of Arthur Garry of Pike's Hill, has been spending a three weeks' vacation with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pierce, in Northwest Norway.

On July 10th, his eighth birthday, a party of invited guests gathered at the Pierce home to help him celebrate the day. The afternoon was spent in playing games, after which refreshments of sandwiches, lemonade, cake and candy were served. His birthday cake was quite festive, lighted with eight red candles. The little host received some pretty and useful gifts and all the children seemed to enjoy themselves.

Among those present were Carlton Greenleaf, Gerry Dunn, George Dunn, Alma Dunn, Fred Dunn, Jr., Dorothy Flint, Aldro Flint, Jane Lindstrum, Adelaide and Madelyn French, Louise French, Edna French, Philip French, and Bessie Webber.

Mrs. Kigins is the daughter of the late Osman B. and Luella (Brown) Warren, who was postmaster at Rochester for many years. BASEBALL

Buckfield 7; Norway 1

In a game which bore evidence of big league stuff, Buckfield and Norway battled seven innings for a decision on a one to one basis. In the eighth Norway exploded. Two clean hits and seven rank errors handed Buckfield six of the cheapest runs possible which gave them an empty victory—just like taking toys away from a child.

The game was played in Buckfield, comprising native and visiting fans. Billy White carried over an experimental outfit to represent the shoe town and collected good material for this initial contest.

The Buckfield team has been working smoothly this summer and had the advantage of inside practise which Norway lacked. As this game progressed the clubs appeared about 50—50 in every department, neither side could tuck the game in the refrigerator until the big blow-up in the fatal eight.

It was a pretty contest to witness, and until the fire works went off, not over four batsmen faced the pitchers in any single inning.

Buckfield scored the first run in the game during her first act. Bessey secured first on a clean hit into left field; trotted second when Fuller was passed, then crossed the pan while Gerrish's single into center was being fielded.

Shepard brought home the first, last and only run for Norway in the fourth. He made first on Robert's error stole second and covered the remaining distance on McDaniel's hit into center and and Hutchin's wild throw from that position to the plate. Purington made a stab for another score in the fifth but failed. He gained the first sack on a single into center; was pushed to second on Trafton's sacrifice, gained third by stealing but Buckfield's slab artist Pike censured the mail and fanned Rice for the third down. This was only fast ball and one of the fortunes of the game. Any real sportsman can stand that stuff although it pulls against the home outfit, but the final act was a heart breaker.

That horrible eight was a mince pie nightmare from Norway's stand point, and almost too terrible to print. The magnitude of the explosion can be realized when it is known that eleven men faced Bacon. Only two hits are recorded, but seven errors and misplays of the most stupid variety were wholly responsible for the awful destruction. Realizing that his support was ragged, and not dependable, Bacon closed the agony with a strike out. Buckfield certainly got sprinting exercise during this exhibition of erratic bush whacking stuff, it was just, tap the horse hide and beat it.

Bacon's work in the box was giltedged, and with clean fielding behind, the game should have been an extra inning battle closing with a circus thriller.

Buckfield carries practically a home outfit in the line up and displays reliable goods. Pike of the New England League fame was taken on for this occasion and added considerable strength to the team, especially at the bat. The players are usually a hard hitting bunch it said, and altogether have something pretty solid for an average team to wipe up easily.

A return game will be played on the fair grounds Saturday afternoon. A slight shake up on the Norway team will shuffle about the positions and bring into the lime light a number of new players. The score:

Oxford 9—Ward 8 Tigers 4

Ward 8 Tigers made their bow to the Oxford public Saturday afternoon in an opening game which placed the visitors on the small end of the line. The game went fast with considerable stick work and base stealing prominent features. Just enough running to make the game peppery without shunting it into the hay field class.

The teams were playing close until a bad pick up early in the contest set the Tigers back on their haunches and Oxford galloped along into the front ranks.

This third inning was the Tiger's hoodoo and they never crept upon their prey after that bad break. Oxford gained a three run lead and accumulated the scores until the end of the chase. Ward 8 rallied during their fifth and got two runners across the pair, but there was nothing further doing. The boys lived up to their name and fought to the finish like the jungle cat. The lead was too great and they returned with only a taste.

Ward 8 Tigers is a team gathered from the sporting element in that part of Norway village, and resurrected from the "Steep Falls Tigers" so called before the war. The army carried away practically the whole nine and happily the outfit has returned safely. The present team will include at least five A. E. F. men when reorganized, and they have the ability to get into the traces for a real sportsmen like scrap with more practise, Joshua Yeaton generously donated the use of his field below the Falls bridge for a ball park. Being close to the main highway, the situation naturally makes an ideal place for the crowd to gather and observe affairs.

About one hundred dollars has been invested in uniforms which are expected this week. They are cream color trimmed with red, across each breast will appear vertically "Ward 8" and horizontally "Tigers." Scott J. Palmer is manager and Carl Foss captain with every person in that Ward a royal rooter pulling for the success of the coming ball team.

Norway-Buckfield Game Saturday

Norway and Buckfield will come together at the fair grounds Saturday afternoon, game called at 3 o'clock. Buckfield pulled out a winner in their town last Saturday, and will endeavor to scalp the Norway bunch again this time.

That outfit from over Streaked Mountain way is no dead stuff. They have been paying winning ball this season and loaded down with confidence. A strong bunch of rooters behind the guns furnish additional ginger and this is one of the strongest assets any team can have. County Attorney Dyer, Harley Rawson, and fifty other "sporting fiends" are solidly behind their town representatives and will advance on us with a rush next Saturday.

What are you going to do about it? Can that chatter about "graft" and "dividends" and other imaginery dope. Patronize the game, realizing every coin laid down at the box office is invested in the team. If you want live sport, show it with metal and not mouth.

Billy White will place a real outfit in the field next Saturday. They are to play a clean fast game, going on against nine clear cut ball players. Take it from me, the excitement will hit the bull's eye and every good sport should warm up and cash up.

If we make a flying start Saturday, the prospects are great for a series extending into the three days of county fair.

The Ward 8 Tigers will go after the East Hebron team at Ward 8 Park, lower Main Street, Saturday afternoon. Game is called at 2.30 and something will commence to drop. The new ball field is near the highway, a short distance below the falls bridge and easily found. Every player is a Norwayite and a resident in the Ward 8 district. A change has been made in the line-up from last week, with a pitcher in the box just arrived from overseas.

Fred Winslow of Auburn is the guest in the family of G. L. Curtis.

Mildred Curtis, teacher of Domestic Science in the schools at Houlton, is spending the summer vacation with her parents.

Madeline Edwards of Farmington was the guest of Adeline DeCoster, Sunday making the trip by auto with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Flood.

Charles E. Smith a former Brown street resident, was in town Tuesday visiting friends. Charles has turned his attention to farming this summer near West Paris, but ossasionally plays ball for old times sake. He is one of the original "Steep Falls Tigers," now merged into the well known Ward 8 ball team.

Mrs. Freeman C. Smith and sons, Robert and Freeman Jr. are spending the week with Mrs. W. H. Puffer at Bath.

Mrs. George McAlister, who has been suffering with dropsy at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Royal Cordwell, is improving slowly. Although confined to her bed, and only able to be moved to a chair occasionally, the family noticed a change for the better and believe it the beginning of a steady gain.

The E. A. Strout agency has sold the well known Charles L. Bartlett farm, located at East Stoneham to J. W. MacLean of Warrendale, Pa. Mr. MacLean will open this place, as a summer hotel, as was formerly done by Mr. Bartlett. This farm contains 90 acres and has much valuable timber on it. It was built by Mr. Bartlett, who lived there several years, and has recently moved to Andover, where he is engaged in the spool manufacturing business.

George P. Downing of Auburn has been here several days tinkering about his village farm. Five hundred Early Anna tomato plants loaded with fruit look like a winner. Five hundred hills of pole beans are making a record growth and sweet corn in abundance is not lagging. George plants two rows of corn, then a row of beans, this method permits cultivating between the poles and so far as known is an original idea.

Leon M. Longley and family recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kendall and daughter and Mr. Kendall's mother, all from Cambridge, Mass. The visitors are occupying the Longley farm in Raymond during July while Mr. Kendall is enjoying a vacation from his duties in Keith's Theatre orchestra, Boston.

The Norway ball team was followed to Buckfield Saturday afternoon by a large number of the faithful. Although the eight innings brought disaster to the outfit, and a fine exhibition went into the air, the crowd arrived home cheerful. Everybody is behind the team and will show their loyalty next Saturday at the return game.

Mrs. J. S. Sullivan and daughter, Vera Sullivan of Spokane, Washington are in town to make their home for several months with Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Sullivan.

A UNIQUE RECORD

Home testimony for Doan's Kidney Pills, published in every locality, is of itself convincing evidence of merit. Confirmed testimony forms still stronger evidence. Years ago, a citizen of Norway gratefully acknowledged the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills. The statement is now confirmed—the proof more convincing. Cases of this kind are plentiful in the work of Doan's Kidney Pills—the record is unique.

S. C. Foster, barber, Main street, Norway says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and I am only too glad to say to others I think they are the best of kidney medicines. Several years ago I had kidney trouble. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at F. P. Stone's Drug Store and I was soon feeling all right again. I remained so for a long time, but later caught cold and my kidneys gave me trouble. I again took Doan's and they gave me relief." (Statement given July 24, 1908).

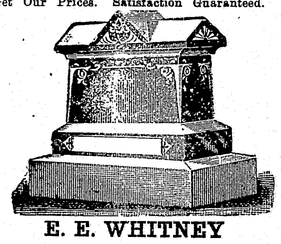

On June 6, 1916, Mr. Foster added: "I still think as well of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I first endorsed them. I use them occasionally, as I feel in need of them and I am always promptly benefitted."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Foster had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. 33-34

TRAVEL NOTES

Our Oldest Correspondent; Harrison, Long Lake, Porch Fishing Incidents, Comments, etc.

We recently called on Granville Fernald at South Waterford, where he is quietly spending the evening of his earthly journey. His memory runs back over 75 years as he was born Jan. 28, 1828 and is entering into the last half of his 91st year. He was sitting on the veranda and looking onto the water of Bear Pond where several boats were fishing. He greeted us most cordially and quickly caught onto who we were and inquired of his Norway friends and acquaintances and success of the Norway Advertiser. He has corresponded for our paper for many years and we regret he does not write oftener.

Four years ago he had a sun stroke while attending the Norway Fair and it is with difficulty he can write for any length of time. He can travel about the house and lawn with the aid of a cane. He expressed the desire of writing the history of the Wright family of Otisfield which we hope he will be able to do. We will be pleased to publish it in this paper and thus preserve it for future generations.

Many of his students in vocal music call on him and he is always glad to see them. Miss Carrie Hall of South Paris and friends had just left when we got there. For many years Mr. Fernald taught singing schools in this vicinity and his scholars are numerous. He says he is always glad to see them.

He invited us "to come over" and get some fish out of Bear Pond, saying there were big salmon caught there pretty often. Only a day or two ago one that weighed 8 pounds was taken. I presume the "Wigwam Boys"—a hundred or more of them—might object to my catching fish there so I'll ask to be excused.

We present on the first page a picture of the Old Singing Master as he appeared a few years back.

The lazier the workman, the more he talks about the unrest.

The once closed road to autos was negotiated. That's a big word, but we passed over it to Harrison. The Elms was visited. It looks much as in years gone when presided over by the jovial David Kneeland. His widow runs the house and has it well filled with summer visitors. Mother sat on the piazza for a spell and concluded to call on Mrs. Orlando A. Kneeland who at one time was the Beals Hotel landlady.

Mrs. Kneeland holds her age well and is living in quiet retirement nearly opposite the railroad station. We viewed the life-like portraits of Orlando in the house and enjoyed our short call in reviewing the past and was pleased to see how gracefully Mrs. K. is gliding down the western slope of life. Mother remained a longer time as I had a call for white perch fishing.

There is this difference between being a talker and a writer: people will listen politely to a talker, but when a writer bores them they yawn and throw his efforts one side.

A. W. Libby has 30 or more boats and canoes to-let and Walter and I got one and sailed into the water. The truth compels announcing the catch of seven white perch only, but I brought in 19 fair sized ones. Twelve of them were given by Gene Drake, who had a surplus. Mr. Drake thought it funny we should leave the Norway Lake which he says is full of white perch, to come to Long Lake for them. I was unable to convince him to the contrary. He said he had spent several delightful summers at Mr. Burnham's camps and knew what he was talking about. We admitted not having fished in Pennesseewassee Lake for the past five years. Simply because we have not. I know there are plenty of fish there but distance lends an added zest to fishing and too, I wanted to call on Harrison friends.

I wanted to hear Frank P. Bennett chant, "Is it warm enough for you? Will it do? An ice cream soda and a lemonade or two?" similar to what he did years ago. I did not see him or Sumner Whitney, either. I did see Mark Smith, the 11-year-old son of Lee Smith of Norway, at the pier when getting ready to go fishing. He had come over with his father who was bringing a load of ready-made clothing to their Harrison store. This store is presided over by Mr. Southard and has been for years. They do a big business and satisfactory to H. B. Foster & Co. of Norway. No doubt of it, else why would they continue it?

An egotist is an editor who thinks he can control public opinion with his editorials. Do you find many editorials in this paper? Hence I'm not that kind of an animal.

The road between Harrison and Norway is terrible and then some more. I mean via the twin bridges. It's hubbly pretty much all the way and it took Walter 50 minutes to make 12 miles and kept Mother and I in the car bouncing about. It is possible Walter don't drive fast enough or that the car is hung up wrong. It is some rough road anyhow and shall be avoided when possible.

"It is all very well to be sure you're right and then go ahead, but sometimes one can't go ahead; he has to stop to convince others he is right." That has been my case up to now.

I had some spell dressing those white perch—11 of them—Walter took 8, but I did it without cutting my hands. Hereafter I shall expect Walter to dress the fish and if he won't, I'll let Mother or Mrs. Leavitt do it. Am closing out on that part of the fish business. Especially so with horn-pouts, eels, white and yellow perch. If I catch them I do my part and it's up to somebody else to do the rest.

This is the season of the year your back itches down where you can't reach.

BRYANT'S POND

The Woodstock A. C. won its fourth straight game of ball this season Saturday when they defeated Bethel 4 to 3. The game was the best seen here for several years. Although a bit wild at times, Hathaway allowed the visitors only two hits and was given good support, a fast double play in the sixth got him out of a bad hole and again in the seventh a double play cut off Bethel's chance to score. With one out in the second, Young drew a pass; and stole second. Littlehale struck out but the catcher dropped the third strike and threw to first, on the throw Young started for third and scored when Crooker made a low throw to head him off. In the seventh a hit batsman, base on balls and single gave Bethel another score. With the home team one run to the good the visitors went into the ninth determined to win. Bryant the first hitter reached first on an error, Robertson flied out too short, Young struck out, Littlehale drew a pass, Benninger hit a hot grounder to short who fumbled it long enough for Bryant to score but Littlehale was caught at the plate. The local team could not score until the fifth when two hits an error and a base on balls netted three runs and drove Bryant to first base while Robertson took up the pitching burden. In the last of the ninth with the score tied, Farnum, the first Woodstock batter singled through short, stole second, went to third on Bean's sacrifice and scored on the squeeze play. The score:

JOYS OF SUMMER

Yes, the winter's gone, folks,
And spring has come again.
The grass is growing green, folks,
Through valley, hill and plain.

The cows are in the lane, folks,
The days are getting long.
Mosquitoes, they have come, folks,
To give us all a song.

Men are sewing seeds, folks,
And working day and night,
To fill our wants and needs, folks,
And sooth our appetite.

We'll pray that crops will yield, folks,
We'll toil with spade and hoe,
We'll roam the woods and fields, folks,
Where ripest berries grow.

We'll scent the budding trees, folks,
Across the vale and moor,
We'll hear the humming bees, folks,
Outside the cabin door.

The corn will soon be waving, folks,
O'er yonder on the hill;
And we'll keep on a saving, folks,
And working with a will.

We'll shout and ring the bells, folks,
We'll fill the earth with cheer,
We'll stroll through dreamy dells, folks,
For summer time is near.

The barefoot boys and girls, folks,
Will romp with tender grace,
With dimples and with curls, folks,
And smiles upon their face.

We, must help them grow, folks,
And keep them well and strong
For they'll be here you know, folks,
When we are dead and gone.

Where is the bobolink, folks,
That's what I want to know
It almost makes me homesick, folks,
Because I miss him so.

His voice, it was so clear, folks,
I miss his sweet refrain.
But now, alas I fear, folks,
He'll never come again.

We'll seek the hemlock and the pine,
We'll give to all a smile.
We'll drink the joys of summer time,
That makes our life worth while.

CHILD SAVED FROM WORMS

A mother of six children writes: "My baby was very sick and a friend of mine suggested trying Dr. True's Worm Elixir. Now I have six children and am never without Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller in my house." Mrs. B. N. Gile, West Newbury, Mass.

Signs of worms are: Deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short, dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. If your child shows any of these symptoms, start giving Dr. True's Elixir at once

OXFORD

Two Ladies Saved From Accident

Mrs. Robert Ellis and her friend, Mrs. G. G. Trowbridge, were saved from what might have resulted in a very severe accident, on Friday afternoon, had it not been for the timely service and presence of mind of one of the members of Camp Oxford.

The horse, which was being driven by Mrs. Ellis, became unmanageable, and both ladies were in the greatest danger when Harold Farrington, unmindful of his own safety, threw himself on the horse, and finally succeeded in rescuing the two ladies.

Both Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Trowbridge are residents of Havana, Cuba, and have had practically no experience in handling horses.

Their gratitude to young Farrington materialized in a very handsome and appropriate gift.

PAYMASTER, GEORGE GATES

George Gates, paymaster for the International Paper Co., at the Rumford mills, died very suddenly at his desk at about 10 o'clock Monday morning. He had been in his usual health, but complained of not feeling very well after breakfast, but said he had some work at the office that should be attended to and that after the more important duties there had been completed he would return home.

When he reached his office at the mill he immediately took up the morning's work, which including the signing of several checks. He was still engaged in routine of his office, when without a moment's notice he was stricken with heart failure, it is believed and settled back into his chair dead.

His death came as a great shock to his wife and only daughter, Norma Gates, both of whom are now prostrated with grief and confined to their beds.

Mr. Gates was about 67 years of age and came here from Massachusetts. He had been paymaster at the International Paper Co.'s mills for nearly twenty-five years. He was a charter member of the Rumford Lodge of Elks and had always been active in the work of the lodge.

Followed By Wild Animal

One night recently as Cecil Kimball was returning home from Hunt's Corner as he was coming through the woods, he was followed by something of the cat tribe either a bob cat or a wild cat. He had a lantern which evidently kept the cat at a distance. When it got too near, Mr. Kimball would run back and swing the light toward it when it would spit and snarl in a way that showed his disposition to fight if brought to close quarters. He followed for some distance then his courage gave out and he went off up the side of the mountain.

Farris Not Guilty

John D. S. Farris of Everett, Mass., was found not guilty on an assault and battery charge in the South Portland Municipal Court Tuesday, after a hearing without presentation of evidence by the respondent. Edwin A. Larry, three and a half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Larry of Thornton Heights, was the victim of an accident when the car driven by the respondent hit the lad and inflicted injuries to such an extent that he died in the Maine General Hospital a few hours after being hit, two weeks ago last Sunday night.

Mr. Farris was arrested by Officer Charles Goddard on this warrant and gave bail in the sum of $500 for appearance July 15. He hurried to the hospital with the boy as soon as he could stop and pick him up. Dr. Harry R. Farris of Oxford furnished bail, being a brother and the respondent was returning to his home from a visit there and was accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Officers Goddard and Milliken and two eye witnesses of the accident testified in the case, being questioned by Judge Meaher. It was brought out that the car was moving at not in excess of 18 miles an hour, the State law permitting 25 miles an hour on this stretch of State road. Judge Meaher discharged Mr. Farris without further evidence being submitted. Mayor Frederick W. Hinckley defended the respondent.

THE LITTLE RIVER

O, little winding river,
That turns between the hills,
And gathers forceful motion
From a hundred tiny rills,
How the murmuring of your current
All the path of memory fills!

Up and down the fragrant banks,
Branching fern plumes wave and dip,
Gentle zephyrs whispering low,
Shake bright drops from every tip.
All the fishes know the hollows
Where the sheltering mosses drip.

The echo of your rippling
Has reached the city's roar,
And the splashing of the ripples
Rolling seaward evermore
Has called with urgent voices
To a welcome home once more.

THE COMMON MAN

There's just one man among the rest,
The kind of man that suits me best.
It's not the Wall Street bulls or bears,
It's not the multi-millionaires—
Although he's not of high degree,
The common man is the man for me.

The man that blessings crown his head,
The man that toils for his daily bread,
The man that makes the world go round,
The noblest man I've ever found,
It matters not the color or creed,
The common man is a man indeed.

If the sky is gray or blue,
You'll always find him staunch and true.
If you are broke and want a dime,
He's sure to help you every time.
From shore to shore and sea to sea
The common man is the man for me.

The man who's not afraid to speak,
And knows his neighbors on the street.
The man that hears you when you call
And has a kindly word for all.
Keep on the level if you can,
'Tis great to be a common man.

Norway Grange

Norway Grange met in regular session Saturday evening at 8.30. Owing to the busy time of year, the attendance was rather small and the steward, gatekeeper, chaplain and overseer were not present. The protem officers were Howard Knightly, Ralph Watson, Mrs. Lucelia Merriam, and Fred Perry, respectively. The new regalia was christened and very attractive, it was under the red, white and blue lighting.

The grange voted to purchase new song books and the Worthy Master appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. Harriet Brown, Mrs. Louise Gammon, and Mrs. Annie Goodwin to look after the same. The matter of organizing a degree team was discussed.

The resignation as gatekeeper by A. T. Crooker was accepted. After a recess the time was given over to the Lecturer.

The Rev. F. A. Sullivan made fitting remarks, congratulating the Grange on its progress, its beautiful hall, etc. "Work for the Night is Coming" was sung by the members with Mr. Sullivan at the piano. Mrs. Harriet Brown gave an interesting reading, and an original Uncle Josh selection given by Fred Perry was loudly applauded. "Three Mistakes I Made Last Year" were told by different members. The program closed with singing, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Refreshments were partaken of and a good meeting greatly enjoyed by all.

Frank H. Noyes was in Portland, Wednesday, returning Thursday morning. Mrs. Noyes, who recently underwent a surgical operation, has had an ill turn and is obliged to remain at the hospital for another week when it is thought she will be able to return home.

Ike Waite, a guide at Middle Dam has been in town this week with his family.

Bert Melvin, yard foreman at C. B. Cummings & Sons Co. during the past three years, closed his engagement there Saturday to accept a season's work with the H. F. Webb Co. at the Norway cannery.

Mrs. Arthur Hill of Gray is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Waldo Nash for a few days.

Charles Russell of Whitman street lost a load of hay, ruined a borrowed rack, scorched a horse and singed his whiskers when the load of hay which he was hauling to the village Saturday afternoon, caught fire and almost wholly consumed. Charles had been clearing the Jason Marr lot near Crockett's Bridge and had the load near Frank Gammon's house when the ice wagon crew discovered the blaze. The crowd quickly gathered and in a short time had a lawn hose playing on the flames. The nag was scorched before relief arrived, but not seriously injured.

Guy A. Buck has sold his place on Water Street to Elmer Tyler, formerly of the U. S. Navy, but employed at Norway Shoe Company since his discharge. Mr. and Mrs. Tyler will take possession before August 1st. Mr. Buck is negotiating for a farm near the village and will move his family there when the deal is closed.

Victor E. Everett, a boy deeply interested in growing vegetables, has an experimental garden at his home on Water street. The Government seeds were planted and faithfully tended, so this young farmer has onions, beans, tomatoes, beets and lettuce galore. Conditions seem highly favorable for the bush beans, as several generous messes of the "string" quality are ready for the table.

A party including Mr. and Mrs. James Everett, Annie Everett, James Everett, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stone and Donald Everett motored Sunday around the White Mountains. They carried lunches and served dinner in Gorham, N. H., then motored through Jackson, Bartlett and ate supper in picnic style at Bridgton.

Albert G. Hadley and daughter Florence picked ten quarts of blueberries on Black Mt. in Sumner Sunday afternoon. They also gathered six quarts of currents where they once lived, but a brisk shower drove them out. The pickers worked only two hours.

Donald P. Everett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Everett, sprained the muscles and cords in his forearm by a fall while performing circus stunts, Friday. Youngsters were doing trapeze capers and other acrobatic tricks from the top of a large packing case. Donald failed to make good his act, and fell some five feet to the ground. The boy carries the injured arm in a sling and will have a quiet vacation during the remainder of the summer.

Winslow Frost of Auburn and son Leo, who is employed in the shoe factory here started to clean up all fish in Lake Pennesseewassee. They opened with numerous tackle and a full dinner pail. The story goes they pushed along a wheelbarrow intending to bring home a big catch for their starving friends. A fifteen mile hike through sunshine and rain failed to make these wild dreams a reality as the fish wouldn't take hold. After dark the crest-fallen fishermen sneaked into town through the back streets with the alibi that the hooks carried a joker, they were for deep sea cod. Fellow workers in Lunn & Sweet's at Auburn who furnished the hooks, have Winslow booked for the smokes.

A fishing party including John Shepard of Auburn, Elmer D. Packard, John W. Wood, Henry B. Foster, Ned Shepard and G. V. Turgeon of Lewiston left Thursday morning for Connecticut Lake, to remain until the end of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen O. Jellerson returned Tuesday from Newtonville, Mass., where they have been for the past few weeks.

Dr. L. J. Frank of Providence, R. I. and Mrs. Lewis Mead were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovejoy.

The funeral of Herbert H. Pride was held at Auburn the first of the week. Mr. Pride's wife was formerly Lucelia Brooks of Norway.

Mrs. Asaph J. Richardson, who has been spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Verrill, at Freeport, has returned home, accompanied by her sister, Addie Verrill, who will spend the week with her.

The Community Chautauqua will be held at the Oxford County Fair Grounds next week beginning Wednesday afternoon, July 23 and continuing through and including Sunday, July 27. There are a great many attractions and a fine course of entertainments are in store. Chautauqua has been well patronized in the past few years since we began to have the course and this year things are looking as if patronage will be even greater then in past years.

Mrs. Ernest Ham and young son of Auburn are the guests of her brother, Theodore Frost and family.

Violet Prince of Mechanic Falls was a guest the past week of her sister, Mrs. Grace Pike, Paris street.

The lawn party and sale given under the auspices of the Ladies Circle Wednesday afternoon was a complete success. Owing to damp weather only the candy table was set on the church lawn while the food table and tea room was conducted in the vestry. The sale was largely attended the proceeds being nearly $10. This is the largest sum received at a mid summer sale for several years.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Bartlett and Alice are spending a few days at A. J. Stearns camp in Lovell.

Mrs. Charles G. Blake, Mrs. Cyrus S. Tucker, Jennie P. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perry were in Portland for the day, Tuesday.

Horace Dinsmore was operated on at the Central Maine General hospital, Lewiston, Saturday for intestinal adhesions. He was reported as gaining Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cobb, Miss Milliken of Lynn and Dr. Dow and family also of Lynn are occupying the two Shepard cottages at the lake for the month of July and August.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hamilton of Boston are guests over the week-end of Mrs. Everett Terhune at the Kingfisher at the lake.

FRYEBURG

Welcome to Soldiers

The old town was astir early and finishing touches were put on house decorations and the trimmings of automobiles that were to go in the parade. The crowd began to come in at 8 o'clock and when the music of Chandler's band marked the beginning of the march there were six hundred people lined up as spectators.

The parade started from Pine Hill at the head of Main street and went to the Academy grounds. The veterans of '61 were carried in beautifully decorated cars, the ladies of Grover Post were next in line and then came the "Boys of the World War." They made a fine showing led by Capt. James W. Eastman of the 56th Pioneers (formerly the Milliken Regiment). Capt. Brown of the 81st Division was honorary aid to Capt. Eastman. The soldiers were escorted by the Boy Scouts, followed by Sabattus Tribe of Red Men and the parade ended with a large company of school children.

B. Walker McKeen of the town committee acted as chairman and a brief welcoming speech was made by Hon. A. A. Perry. Mr. Perry paid a fine tribute to the memory of the boys who did not come back and spoke most appreciatively of the work of the boys who were before him. It was an eloquent address filled with the spirit of the occasion and it voiced the sentiments of every one present. In closing, Mr. Perry made an announcement that was received with hearty applause: Minnie Bradley Matson has given the town of Fryeburg the beautiful elevation, Pine Hill, to be set apart as a park—a memorial to the living and dead soldiers, who fought that the world might be kept free.

This news was received joyfully by every citizen of Fryeburg, who will remember the generous gives of the beautiful spot.

The town gave a banquet at noon to the boys and the members of the G. A. R., Mrs. Blanche S. Page serving the dinner at "The Inn."

The afternoon was given over to sports on the Academy grounds.

A dance, with music by Chandler's band, closed a very successful day. The chairman of the town committee was Charles E. Fox, who with his associates, has worked unceasingly to make the day fit the occasion. The many cars were beautiful in color and scheme of decoration. Hon. A. A. Perry's was covered with flowers from his garden, presenting a lovely appearance. Richard C. Goffner acted as marshal of the exercises.

GOOD ROADS AND PLENTY OF THEM

What America needs is unity, not an aggregation of discordant unities. The former means irresistible national strength; the latter stands for perpetuated decrepitude.

If we are to be united we must get to know each other. We must get together, literally, physically. We must increase the means of geographical intercommunication. The railroads can't do everything, and they certainly don't. The whole country should be a network of well kept highways.

Nearly every man, who has an average acquaintance with machinery can afford to buy and maintain a low or medium priced automobile. There are few farmers who can't. The per capita proportion of cars to population is growing so fast that problems of locomotion are rapidly solving themselves. Already we find governors of adjoining states cooperating to promote road building schemes.

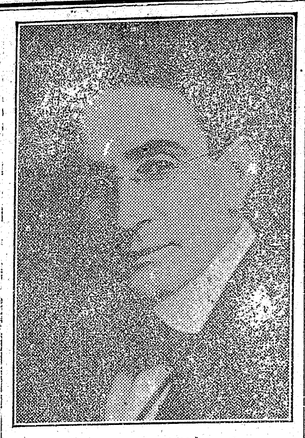

No project is more wholesome. No movement shows sounder political judgment. When our 100,000,000 population ceases to be motley group of disjointed commonwealths, each commonwealth conserving within itself a babel of tongues, dialects, vernaculars and patois, then, and not till then, will we present to the whole world type of selfdependent nationalism which all will desire to imitate and none will dare assail.

$50,000 SUIT AGAINST RAILROAD

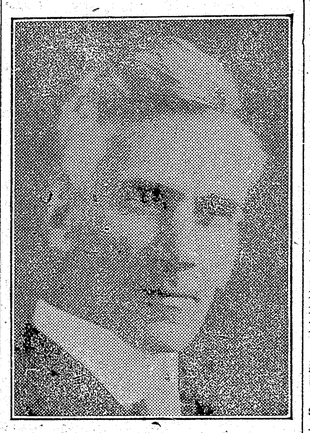

Through his attorney, Matthew McCarthy, Charles Dunton of Rumford has brought suit against the Director General of Railroads, in the sum of $50,000 for the loss of both legs while employed for the Maine Central Railroad Company. The case will be tried at the October term of Supreme Judicial court for Oxford county.

This is the second local action against the railroad, brought by Lawyer McCarthy. A suit is now pending for $30,000 for the death of Julius Burgess, who was killed at Rumford Junction last January.

Live Poultry, eggs, and farm produce are wanted by Alley, Greene & Pipe Co., Boston. See ad.

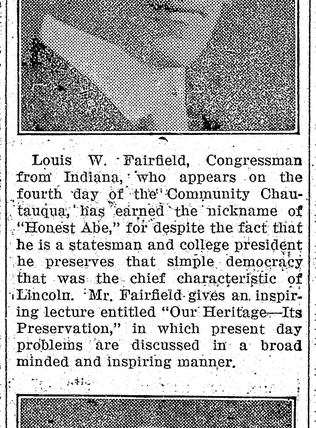

Thrilling and dramatic is the great lecture entitled "Climbing the Family Tree," which Albert Edward Wiggam presents on the second night of the Community Chautauqua. It deals with the age old problem of heredity and environment in a brand new way. He gives clear cut, enlightening answers to such perplexing questions as, Why do strong, sane parents have degenerate children? Can cousins safely marry? and others that every thinking person has often pondered over.

Louis W. Fairfield, Congressman from Indiana, who appears on the fourth day of the Community Chautauqua, has earned the nickname of "Honest Abe," for despite the fact that he is a statesman and college president he preserves that simple democracy that was the chief characteristic of Lincoln. Mr. Fairfield gives an inspiring lecture entitled "Our Heritage—Its Preservation," in which present day problems are discussed in a broad minded and inspiring manner.

Charles T. Grilley, prince of entertainers, who appears on the second day of the Community Chautauqua, is making a triumphant return to the American audiences that have long known and enjoyed his work. His inimitable dialect stories are choicer than ever, for he brings an array of brand new stories as well as the choicest of the old favorites.

Tillemont Thomason, the great English engineer, who appears on the opening night of the Community Chautauqua, was brought to America by this organization especially for this tour, in which he gives his dramatic lecture, "Echoes of the German Revolution." He is head of the British Lecture League, one of England's great institutions, and won fame during the war by his remarkable work in deciphering the German war plans long before they were apparent to the Allied military leaders. While he was at first scoffed at, the very people who doubted him later acknowledged that he was right, for his predictions were borne out by the actual course of events. His lecture on the German Revolution gives the same broad minded view on what we may expect of Germany in future.

KEEPING MONEY AT HOME

(Matter Suitable for Editorial Appropriate One Week Before Chautauqua Opens).

In every town there are a few people who see in everything new and unusual a possibility of harm and who oppose bringing into the community any outside ideas. Even in this enlightened day a few—we are glad to say of our community that there are very few—oppose so useful and beneficial an influence as the Chautauqua which is to open here next week.

The chief reason these non-progressives advance against this great institution of entertainment and education is that "it doesn't belong to our town, so why should we give it our money and support?" The first part of this statement, "it doesn't belong to our town," is the greatest advantage gained from the Chautauqua, because, coming as it does from outside our horizon, it brings new thoughts, new ideas and new suggestions for the solution of present day problems. We all need this new inspiration. It doesn't mean that we are to change our ideas and ideals, but it is useful to know how the other fellow thinks.

"But," it is asked, "why should we pay our money to an out-of-town attraction?" The most direct answer is "because it keeps money in the town." Almost everyone at this season of the year is planning to take a vacation, and many are wise enough to take it at home when the Chautauqua comes to town. For through it they enjoy all the best entertainment that the city offers and are saved the expense and inconvenience of travel. They stay right at home with the rest of the family, have all the comforts of home and spend their vacation money right in their own home town. In addition to this money the town gains from the Chautauqua, because every member of it who comes here spends money here.

Therefore the Chautauqua brings money to the town and keeps money here. Our best advice to everyone is to take the whole family down to the big brown tent next week and enjoy together the most delightful and profitable vacation that can be obtained anywhere.

NO MATTER WHAT IT IS, IT'S THE BEST!

The remarkable part of the program offered by the Community Chautauqua has always been that while every form of high class entertainment is presented it is hardly possible to say which is best. Each attraction is different from all the others on the program and from all others in the same line. But it has to be the best to get on the program of the Community Chautauqua.

This year's program surpasses the high standard set by the Community Chautauqua in previous years and is but an additional reason for the unique reputation possessed by Community Chautauqua of presenting the finest five-day Chautauqua in America.

THERESA SHEEHAN.

All the thrills of an actual shipwreck are felt by the audience fortunate enough to hear the individual account of the sinking of the Lusitania given by Miss Theresa Sheehan, who appears with the Theresa Sheehan Concert Company on the opening day of the Community Chautauqua. In addition Miss Sheehan gives a dramatic account of the famous performance of the United States Marines at Chateau-Thierry, which is as thrilling as the work of the Marines themselves. This is but part of the excellent program of music and recitation presented by this company of talented artists.

MORE THAN THE CITY OFFERS!

A glance at the complete program of the Community Chautauqua causes the reader to wonder at the array of high-class talent offered at so reasonable a price. In a large city a single lecture by such men as Harwood Hatcher, Montaville Flowers or Strickland Gillilan cannot be heard at less than the $2 Broadway scale of prices. Yet these three great speakers and a host of other talented artists are appearing for five days at the price of one, and if one is fortunate enough to secure one of the first five hundred tickets, $2.20.

Would you rather have your summer in the field or the infield?

Miss Vivian Des Jardins, the talented and vivacious violinist, who appears with the Theresa Sheehan Concert Company on the opening day of the Community Chautauqua. Miss Des Jardins, an American girl of French descent, is the proud possessor of a violin that is centuries old, which has been handed down in her family from generation to generation. While the violin has never been appraised, it is, needless to say, priceless to its owner, who asserts without it she could not give the spirited finished performances that have made her famous.

THE TIME OF THEIR LIVES.

Anyone passing the Chautauqua tent these mornings will wish to be a child once more, so happy are the boys and girls taking part in the Junior Chautauqua. No wonder! They are having five days of fun of the finest kind, including every form of entertainment dear to young hearts.

Games—such games as were never thought of before and enough of them to last a whole year—games for indoors, games for outdoors, games for rainy days and games for sunny days!

HARTFORD

Man Under the Bed.

The home of Arthur Richards of Hartford, was the scene of a lively mix-up Sunday night. Miss Richards and a friend, Miss Lambert, who was her guest had retired, but was soon disturbed by a peculiar noise under their bed. Miss Richards reached out and carefully turned the knob of her parent's bedroom door, which adjoined her's and called to her father to come into her room and find what the trouble was.

He investigated and found a young man whom he identified as Cecil Bartlett of Hartford, under the bed, a lively mix-up followed in which the alleged Bartlett succeeded in making his escape Mr. Richards notified Deputy Sheriff Columbus L. Hale of Canton, who quickly responded. He found plain evidence of a struggle and also found a hat that said to belong to Bartlett, under the girl's bed. As Bartlett lives but a short distance away, the Sheriff visited his home and found him in bed, when he arrived. Bartlett was taken to Rumford Monday and a hearing held before Judge Stevenson.

Nature Provides
The Ingredients

Argo-Phosphate, the New Herbal Remedy, Now Endorsed by Local People

If the digestive organs are not properly performing the work which nature has assigned to them, then nutrition, which is absolutely essential to the recovery of other diseased parts, will be lacking and there can be no permanent relief. When bodily nutrition is normal, the stomach digests the food, the blood absorbs and carries the nourishment to the different parts of the body, causing the various organs to properly perform their functions.

Nature has provided a remedy in the ingredients of Argo-Phosphate, the new herbal stomach remedy, which is now being introduced here. It is purely vegetable and its vitalizing, corrective and reconstructive qualities are so pronounced that beneficial results are noticed from the first day. That this is true, it is only necessary to listen to the statements made daily by local people who have given Argo-Phosphate a fair trial and have been benefited thereby.

It is dispensed by A. L. Clark Drug Co.

DOCTOR URGED AN OPERATION

Instead I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Was Cured.

Baltimore, Md.—"Nearly four years I suffered from organic troubles, nervousness and headaches and every month would have to stay in bed most of the time. Treatments would relieve me for a time but my doctor was always urging me to have an operation. My sister asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before consenting to an operation. I took five bottles of it and it has completely cured me and my work is a pleasure. I tell all my friends who have any trouble of this kind what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—NELLIE B. BRITTINGHAM, 609 Calverton Rd., Baltimore, Md.

It is only natural for any woman to dread the thought of an operation. So many women have been restored to health by this famous remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after an operation has been advised that it will pay any woman who suffers from such ailments to consider trying it before submitting to such a trying ordeal.

Arthur Andrews and family of Bryant Pond were at the Corner, Sunday. He spoke as if hay was high at Bryant Pond. $20.00 per ton for loose hay delivered at the barn. This is about twice as high as it was one year ago at this time. It ought to be for some men want $4.00 per day and then work only nine hours.

We hear the farmers at West Bethel have called a meeting and formed a league and agreed not to pay over $3.00 per day and board.

Alta Cummings, one of our school teachers in town, has gone to Castine to the teachers' training school for 6 weeks.

There will be a meeting at Songo schoolhouse next Sunday at half past two and a meeting at the town house at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Osbourne, our minister, will attend these meetings. He also preaches in the church every Sunday forenoon, services commencing at 10.45. Sunday school is held after the meeting in the vestry. It is the largest Sunday school we have ever had.

A few weeks ago D. A. Cummings hired Harry McNally to go to Bethel. He knew the horse had the heaves badly, but thought he would go that distance all right, but when he got within 30 rods of home the old horse fell down in the road and died in less than five minutes. It seemed to be too bad for Mr. McNally to lose the horse for his children had been taking the horse to go to school with every day at the town house school. The man whom he was to buy the horse of at Bethel, William Chapman, made him a present of the horse and D. A. Oh, stomach

Those people who suffer with the distressing symptoms attending chronic dyspepsia will be interested to read the following voluntary testimonial:—

"I have kept the "L. F." Atwood's Medicine in the house for over twenty years and have received great benefit from it. It does seem as though I could not keep house without it. In the past I have had a very bad stomach trouble, and could hardly do my work. After taking a few bottles of the true "L. F." Atwood's Medicine, I became much better. My niece has also been greatly benefited by it. We both are willing to recommend the medicine to all who need a remedy for dyspepsia and constipation."

What Kind of Children Will You Have?

This is but one of the many vital questions on heredity answered by Albert Edward Wiggam in his dramatic lecture entitled

"CLIMBING THE FAMILY TREE"

In which he presents the true facts about heredity that every father, mother and child should know.

Why do strong, sane parents have degenerate children?

Can cousins safely marry?

Will the children of criminals be criminals?

All these points are clearly, forcefully, dramatically explained in this lecture.

It is a great education and a great drama that you cannot afford to miss.

Community Chautauqua

The Chautauqua this year will be held at the fair grounds between Norway and South Paris, July 23 to 27 inclusive.

The program opens with a lecture by the noted English engineer, Tillemont-Tomason, who has been brought over from England by the Community Chautauqua especially for this lecture tour. He has long been head of the British Lecture League, one of the most influential institutions in England, and gained great prominence during the early days of the war. He went up and down the country explaining the real objects of the various great German drives, and while he was at first scoffed at, he was later acknowledged absolutely correct in his predictions which were borne out by the subsequent course of events. He approaches the great problem of the German Revolution in absolutely the same open-minded spirit, and gives some important facts about Germany's plans for escaping the penalty of her crimes. He explains motives behind the German revolutionary propaganda, and outlines what we may expect of Germany in the future.

On the same evening appears the delightful Theresa Sheehan Concert Company, which gives a program of charming music, while Miss Sheehan herself will entertain with her clever Irish readings. Her account of the sinking of the Lusitania and the work of the Marines at Chateau-Thierry form a thrilling drama that all will enjoy.

The second days program is made notable by the appearance of the great Charles T. Grilley, the prince of entertainers. He gives the famous dialect stories and impersonations that are a source of unfailing joy, and in addition there is the delightful musical accompaniment furnished by his daughter, Virginia Grilley the talented young harpist. On the evening of the same day comes the greatest and most thrilling educational and dramatic lecture ever presented, for the noted authority on heredity Albert Edward Wiggam, presents his great lecture, "Climbing the Family Tree." It is an education for fathers and mothers and children, for it answers such age-old questions as: Why do strong sane parents have weak degenerate children? Can cousins safely marry? Will the children of criminals be criminals? How do geniuses happen? and many other questions on heredity that every thinking person has pondered over.

A rare treat for lovers of music comes on the third afternoon and evening when the Russian String Quartet gives two great concerts. This famous musical company has the unique reputation of presenting the greatest masterpieces of music so simply and so beautifully that their power is felt by everyone whether a student of music or not. That concert in the evening serves as the prelude of the remarkable lecture given by Thomas Brooks Fletcher, noted newspaper editor and prophet of big business, who has inspired thousands to success. His dramatic lectures have been given before large groups of the country's biggest business men, and he brings the same vital message of success and optimism to Community Chautauqua audiences.

On the fourth afternoon and evening, appear Carolyn Reed and the Juvenile Four and is one of the most unique offerings ever appeared on any platform. Never before have such talented child artists appeared together as are offered in his one number. First there are the famous Swenson Twins, Ruby and Ruth, who present clever pamtomime dances that make the characters of Mother Goose live before the audiences. With them is Kobi, the twelve year old genius of the violin.

The lecturer of the fourth evening is the well-known Congressman, Louis W. Fairfield, whose remarkable career as college president and statesman has given him a broad outlook for the solution of present day problems. His career is not unlike that of Lincoln, to whom he bears so remarkable a resemblance, that he has won the nickname Honest Abe. His lecture gives an inspiring solution for many of the pressing problems of reconsturction.

The crowning touch to this remarkable program comes on the fifth day, when the famous Banda Rossa, celebrated throughout Europe and America, gives two great concerts of popular music that is presented in an absolutely new way. Every member of this remarkable organization is an artist of finished skill, so that the program so perfectly presented is a musical treat seldom heard in this part of the country.

Norway Party Visited "Doctor" Richardson."

An auto party journeyed to East Monmouth, Thursday afternoon and hung up with Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Richardson, who own and carry on a one hundred and twenty-five acre farm. The place is beautifully located on a ridge overlooking Tacoma Lake, the land is productive and "Doctor" Richardson should become a million heir. An abundance of growing pine is a valuable asset, not mentioning an ideal soil for a big hay crop.

The Richardsons passed along the glad hand and the travelers were given the keys to their city as the reporters say. Of course the "doctor" was proud of his possessions, and had the crowd in tow, showing his achievements as a real farmer.

Mrs. Richardson not to be called a slacker as an entertainer, prepared a bountiful supper. The fatted calf was not killed, but the best of the poultry flock was sacrificed, and real chicken with green peas and other vegetables made life worth living. "Just like mother's cooking many years before high prices" was the general verdict.

After a long social talk about Norway and its people, the party left for home reaching here about 10 o'clock.

The distance from Shorty Cook's barber shop to his former assistant's front door is fifty miles. The trip was made in one hour and 55 minutes with Fred Cummings' auto. This delegation included Fred H. Cummings, Roy Pratt, "Shorty" Cook, Quin Pratt, Ernest B. Jackson, Leroy Spiller and "Bub" Cummings.

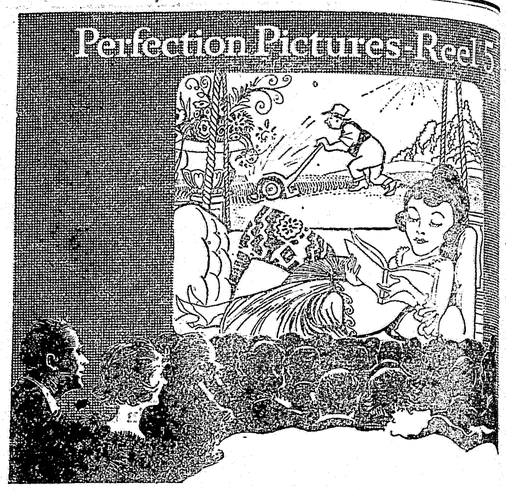

For the next forty years the American Legion will occupy the place which the G. A. R. formerly held. And their watchword is "100 per cent Americanism."

FISHING NOTES NEWS AND COMMENTS

May and June are months when the trout bite best. During the time I'm over worked and can't stop to write. Notes are often taken and the story written later. That's the excuse for things happening in May and getting into the paper in July.

The waters of Andover were twice troubled by the writer this season. Once in May and once in June. The same brook—West Surplus—was fished both times. More and bigger fish were taken in May than in June, but the limit was nearly reached each time. Robert Wilder of New York, J. C. True and Walter Smith were in the party as well as W. W. Milton of Andover. The catch was 88 fish of legal length 6 inches.

You are probably aware that you can fish the brooks running into Andover only three days out the seven—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. These are "fish-days" so-called by the native. It prevents campers wantonly destroying trout for the sake of telling how many they caught in a given time. The law has been enforced for the past 20 years and has helped out the trout amazingly.

Three good brooks, two easily accessible run into the Ellis River at Andover. Sawyer brook can not be reached, that is the headwater without much travel on foot and the fish "way-up" are holding out better than in the other brooks. Trout are often caught in Ellis River.

At one time it was a noted trout stream. That was years ago yet some speckled beauties still linger in it.

While Walter was changing tire near Bear River bridge in Newry a gentleman came to visit and talk. He told us of the days years ago when trout were plenty in that stream and ten pound basket could be filled in short order and before breakfast. I was talking with C. H. L. Powers, who was born in Hanover, Oct. 6, 1837, hence nearly 82 years ago. He was a brick mason and plasterer by trade having learned it in Boston commencing when he was but 16 years old. For many years he has done a fine business. He worked for the Grand Trunk with headquarters in Gorham, N. H., several years and for 13 years, he had a big crew at Rumford. He retired a few years since to his home here. Winters are spent with his son, Rev. L. M. Powers of Gloucester, Mass., or with his daughter, Mrs. H. E. Benton of Lowell, Mass. The daughter married a minister hence both sides of the house are represented in the ministry. Mr. Powers likes his Bear River home and lives there in home like surroundings. He was a subscriber to this paper for many years. I induced him to take the paper when he was plastering the Universalist church at South Paris. He recalled the incident in our talk.

It is difficult to believe that New York people would buy Androscoggin suckers when labelled "mullet" or "mountain trout" or any other name. It is true that Willis Barker, John Hopkins and Geo. Cole, of Rumford Point got about four thousand dollars for their spring catch of suckers what wear fins and survived the sulphite water of the big Androscoggin River.

I met the Moosehead Guide, who seems pleased that he can neither read or write, this year. He says he will never loose his eye sight and have to wear big-bowed glasses as those do who are learned in books. When asked why he did not learn to read and write says he has trouble enough now and don't want to increase the expense of living with unnecessary things. He says there are too many educational people in the world already and he is well enough off as he is.

The "pointed tree" is numerous from Dover to Greenville, thirty-six miles. They are the prettiest of any tree in New England. The road is good and all the way up hill or until you get almost to Moosehead Lake.

The bridge at upper Abbott village has been rebuilt and a detour is no longer necessary. This settlement was hard hit when the fire destroyed the Woolen Mill and bridge a few years ago. The big brick smoke stack and foundation is all that remains of the industry. The chimney sets almost in the road. The new bridge is of cement and looks permanent.

Apparently Guilford is the boom town of the Piscataquis Valley. An extension is being made to the mills and every thing looks prosperous.

Skowhegan is a town with a terrible name and very much in need of a hotel. One that is in keeping with the size and importance of the town. Skowhegan is a big place and could easily become a city if it so desired. There is much evidence of wealth and prosperity. It is the shire town of Somerset county and contains the State Girls Reformatory. This institution has been in operation only a few years and has an increasing patronage.

It's news-paper office is one of the best in the State. The Independent-Reporter is a great local paper. It is well managed and has a large patronage. The office is a big machine presided over by R. T. Patten and corps of efficient workmen.

It is conveniently arranged and looks properous in every department. A good local paper and a good hotel go largely to the making of a town.

At North New Portland I endeavored to get dinner. This village badly burnt a few weeks ago. A half dozen houses and many beautiful trees were burnt. I was told 19 miles up the river a good place to get dinner at "The Ledge House." This proved to be true. The house is the property of Viles & Gannett, lumbermen of Augusta, who here keep a base of supplies and several log cabins. It is in a good hunting district and an artificial trout pond is in the making. All the brooks and ponds here contain trout and the place is ideal. Augusta is 86 miles down river.

Scott's Camps, Quimby Pond were the objective point and reached in season for the evening's fishing. Quimby Pond is 5 miles from Rangeley city and 3 miles from Oquossoc Railroad Station. Scott's Camps have a history that runs back 27 years. They have been open to the public for about 20 years. The trout are from half a pound to a pound and a half and are numerous in the fishing season though they have the habit of coming to a fly all summer and fall. The pond is not large neither are Scott's Camps but the accommodation and attention are good and the food served delicious. A splendid place to stop and rest especially if you like to fish.

The three-legged cat and tame crows were missing this year. The crows "went South" in the fall and because of their domestic habits were probably killed. They did not return this spring. The cat I forgot to inquire about. There were however a four-legged bobbed-tailed yellow cat and one kitten in evidence. The tame crows were so mischievous that Mrs. Scott did not mourn greatly over their absence. The crows would pick the buttons off the autos and steal and hide most every thing they could find including a buck saw and a claw hammer.

The extreme hot weather brought the trout into the spring-holes where they would plunge and roll on the surface heedless of artificial lure. It was interesting to see them and occasionally one would grab a fly and be drawn to a net. Judge A. E. Stearns and Mr. Bowers of Rumford can vouch for the truth of this. I got some fish each day but one and only on one day did I get the limit, six fish, and that was Monday, July 7th.

I'm to give the exact weight of fish killed. Mind you it is dressed weight. Here it is: 15 fish 9 lbs. and 8 ounces which cost $6.10 per pound reckoning board money only. Not too bad!

At Oquossoc there is a barber as well as a Bowling Alley, a store and railroad station. It goes that there must be a post office and that is in the store. I got my hair cut and beard trimmed in short order and good shape. Thomas is the name of the barber and has been there 14 summers. He comes from Rumford and is a pretty decent sort of an animal. He did the whole business in 13 minutes and did not seem to hurry or slight the job. Maybe its because I don't have a great amount of hair. He claimed championship for being the spryest (white) tonsorial artist in the State having taken $23.45 inside 11 hours in Rumford first winter. Taking the "work as it comes along. Prices shave or whisker-trim 20 cents and hair cut 50 cents. That is going some!

At Quimby Pond I met H. A. and A. P. Poole of Brockton, Mass. They are brothers of Joseph F. Poole, who at one time was proprietor of the Andrews House at South Paris. Joe Poole owned the house at South Paris in 1882-3 and sold it to W. H. Shaw, popularly known as "Baldy," who run it until he died a few years ago. J. F. Poole is in the grocery business in Brockton, Mass., and is properous as apparently are his brothers. They are acquainted with Henry F. Favor of their city, who went from Norway 20 or 30 years ago. He was spoken of as a good citizen and properous man. Mr. Favor is teacher of a certain branch of manual training in the city of Brockton and is well liked. He was a house carpenter for some years prior to going to work for the city.

A man called at Greenleaf's Camps and asked permission to write and mail a letter. He was sun-burned and weather beaten resembling the aborigines of a past age. He had an Oldtown, Me., quick-water canoe and camping out-fit. On the bow of the craft which had been painted out was: "The Lone Wolfe." The name of the owner was Walter F. Wolfe, 9 Northern Avenue, New York City and he was making a tour of New England inland water in a canoe. He left New York City, May 2nd and paddled up the Hudson River, went through the canal in to Lake Champlain, to Rouses' Point thence by river to Quebec up the St. Francis across Megantic Lake and down Moose River into Moosehead and on June 30 was at Sugar Island.

He claimed having the greatest trip of his life regardless of his army experience with the 26 Division in Cambria. He is 21 years old, modest, polite and gentlemanly and a student in the College of New York. His only companion is a fox terrier pup less than four weeks old which he had bought on his route.

Wolfe caught his first trout in Moosehead having caught pike, lunge and billfish. I inferred that he had little knowledge of fishing as his equipment was primitive. He was making many notes and taking many pictures of interesting scenes and scenery. Judging from questions I inferred he intended going down the Allagash to St. John N. B. and "shore-it" to New York City on the big pond. He was without compass or map and "put-up" wherever night overtook him.

He said he expected to be home in September and return to collge and complete his course as a civil engineer. He promised to write to me on his return.

A call was made to York's Camps, on Loon Lake, six miles from Rangeley on the old tote road to Kennebago. The road is good to the camps. A decided change from what it was a few years back. Lewis York has a dozen or so log camps here. Plenty of boats and a good lay out for summer guests, fishermen and hunters. He can accommodate forty or more people. No fish can be sent out according to laws made and provided probably for Mr. York's special benefit. Much that is artictically rustic is snown in the building of the camps and it is a delightful sport in the wilderness. There were 30 and more guests here when we called. Rates $4 to $6 per day.

Some of York's guests came to Quimby Pond to get fish but Jim Scott has the trout in the pond educated so they would not bite. The trout showed off to advantage. They rolled, splashed and tumbled in the spring-hole but refused to take the fly of a Loon-Laker-Guest. Jim's boarder, could take them but not Lew. York's Educated fish!

Fred H. Cummings and wife of Norway and Mrs. Annie Wingate, husband and son, of Hallowell were callers at Camp Greenleaf. They arrived in one of Fred Sawyer's speed boats having encircled the Lake and taken in the points of interest. They stopped at Squaw Mountain Inn. Elgin showed them about and told of the remarkable catches and gave them fish to take to their hotel for supper. Mrs. Wingate will be remembered as Miss Annie Laferrier of Norway.
